WISCONSIN SENIOR OLYMPICS, INC. PRIVACY POLICY

Wisconsin Senior Olympics, Inc. (WSRO) is the organization recognized by the National Senior Games Association (NSGA) to host Senior Olympics National Qualifying Games in the state of Wisconsin. One of the requirements for this recognition is the sharing, with NSGA, of the name, address, phone numbers, e-mail address and birth date of the athletes participating in the Wisconsin Senior Olympics.

WSRO tries to protect the confidentiality of the athlete's street address, phone numbers and date of birth. However, WSRO cannot guarantee that in all cases it will be able to protect the confidentiality of information.

WSRO may make the names and addresses of its athletes available to sponsors and advertisers upon their request.

WSRO reserves the right to use any photographs or video media, from any WSRO sponsored event, in displays or publications to promote WSRO activities.

Collection of information on the Wisconsin Senior Olympics website: Each year WSRO sponsors competitive sports events. The results of these events, name, age group, and other identifying information, are published on the WSRO website and in a newsletter mailed to participants.

E-MAIL LIST: WSRO reserves the right to contact all athletes for which it has an e-mail address, if WSRO deems the matter of interest or importance to its athletes.

WSRO will try to keep all personal information confidential. We recognize and support the need to protect the privacy rights of our athletes through disclosure of our practices for collection and use of athlete information.

If you have any questions or comments about our privacy practices, you can contact us at info@wisconsinolympics.com or (262) 821-4444.
